

New Jersey Department of Transportation

Employee Memorial Dedication Ceremony

September 8, 2000

11 a.m.

It has been a source of great pride to watch our employees and retirees wholeheartedly embrace first the concept and then the construction of this memorial to our colleagues who lost their lives while improving, maintaining and operating New Jersey's transportation system. I've seen us come together to offer our time, talents and money to make this beautiful monument a reality. The entire project is a wonderful testimony to the dedication, professionalism and spirit of the employees of the Department, past and present. The NJDOT Employee Memorial will stand as an inspiration to those who follow us in the service of the citizens of New Jersey.
